Problem

Retail operations have too little time and too many points of contact. E-commerce, delivery tech, blast message promotions, in-store inventory/daily special listings, in-store checkout kiosk, never mind data analytics... too many entities charging way too much money.

Product

A Starbucks-like e-commerce app with PayPal-like and Venmo-like tech allowing pre-order, delivery, and in-store browsing/cart fulfillment, blast promo messaging to target groups (and in-store TV) as well as bi-directional in-app messaging (no violation of national cellular companies averting cannabis) with analytics across the entire platform. Plus, integrated with Dutchie POS and other national players.

Why End Users Love Us

- Frictionless... just bring a government-issued ID and smartphone.
- Pre-order, delivery, and in-store purchases all in one—No kiosk or other tech needed.
- No need to get/carry cash.
- EZ messaging with budtenders without violating national cellular network policies.
- It's how everyone buys everything everywhere else.

Additional Features/Benefits

- Full delivery functionality (integrated with national "last mile" logistics partners)
- Opportunity for upfront credit vs. micro-deposit ACH
- Funds held in individual dispensary escrow account ready to be spent
- Daily messaging to clients = no blocked messages
- Ability to "load" funds to digital wallet
- Rewards/rebates available

WHY BUDTENDUR IS FOR YOU!

- Multiple payment options mitigate fall back to cash only
- White-labeled customized app, digital wallet, messaging, and analytics
- Price-point same or less than that of competitors offering a single feature
- WOW customers with modern tech
